SONOS® COMPATIBLE MOUNTING

The home cinema and HiFi speaker market has seen a revival in recent years thanks to the growing popularity of home networking and wireless speaker systems. SONOS is one of the pioneers of this industry and has quickly become one of the most sought after digital home audio brands across the globe.

Recognising the need for reliable mounting solutions to accompany these speakers, B-Tech's recently rebranded Ventry range provides an ideal set of mounting solutions for use with SONOS and other high-end speaker systems.

ABOUT SONOS

“ In 2002, we set out with a goal – to reinvent home audio for the digital age. Our vision was simple - fill every home with music and make listening a valued experience again. We're making it easy for everybody to listen to the music they love in every room of their home. To hear the songs they love, to discover new music they never knew existed, and to appreciate it all with the highest sound quality.

We're doing it all over the world – In more than 60 countries, in seven languages through thousands of retailers. We're constantly looking for ways to improve the experience – with new products, new software and continually investing in ways to provide our customers the best experience possible. We're doing what we set out to do. Changing the way people listen to music – one home at a time.”
