CABLE MANAGEMENT - 700 MM

Multiple firms have embraced open-plan work environments, which have both advantages and disadvantages. Employees working in open-plan environments are often disturbed by noise and expressing a lack of confidentiality.

A way in which employees can get a personal space, while firms can keep the open-plan work environments, is with delimiting objects. This cable management is an optimal example of solving the above mentioned problem with a multi-functional object. The main purpose of the cable management is to discretely hide cables and wires, but is also noise-dissipative, since the cable management has integrated felt wall. The felt wall can also be used as bulletin board providing a personal and creative space in the open-plan work environment for the individual employee.

This specific cable management is measuring 700 mm, which makes it preferable for the smaller working environments, - including home offices. Furthermore, the cable management can be used with the monitor holder in the APTO collection.
