

MonLines MSH002

1m slatwall desk mount, silver

Description

The MonLines MSH002 slatwall for table mounting with a length of 1000mm offers a completely customisable workstation in the smallest space. A wide variety of monitor holders and accessories such as trays for documents can be attached to the practical organisational wall. The scope of delivery already includes the corresponding table columns to which the slatwall rail can be attached at any height.

The table is mounted either by means of the supplied table clamps or by means of the supplied screw-through fastening, which is particularly suitable for workstations opposite each other. This makes the MonLines Slatwall ideal for modern desk sharing workstations as well as for applications in open-plan offices.
