

TecLines TKW002B / TKW002W / TKW002S

Desktop cable duct / tray 520 mm

Description

The TecLines TKW002 desk cable tray is a versatile, all-encompassing solution for optimal convenience. It can be installed beneath virtually any type of desk, providing ample space for all cables with its 520 mm length. This sturdy metal tray is affixed to the desk's underside using screws. On the working side, a deep recess allows for easy access to power supply units and socket strips. The cable tray's generous capacity ensures secure storage of supply cables while efficiently ventilating power supply units. Additionally, it offers the possibility of attaching system socket strips to the tray. The cable management system securely keeps the cables within the tray, and its straightforward, sleek design seamlessly integrates into any work environment. TecLines - Intelligent technology by creative minds.
