TecLines TKW003B / TKW003W / TKW003S
Desktop cable duct / tray 1000 mm

Description

The TecLines TKW003 desk cable tray stands out as a highly versatile and convenient solution. With its 1000 mm length, it can easily be installed beneath virtually any desk, providing ample space for all your cables. This sturdy metal tray securely attaches to the underside of the desk using screws. On the working side, you'll find a deep recess that facilitates easy access to power supply units and socket strips. The cable tray's substantial capacity not only ensures the safe storage of supply cables but also promotes efficient ventilation for the power supply units. Additionally, it offers the flexibility to attach system socket strips to the tray. The cable management system keeps the cables neatly organized within the tray, while its simple and linear design seamlessly blends into any work environment. TecLines - Intelligent technology by creative minds.
