

TecLines TKW007

Desktop cable duct / tray with clamp system 1140 mm

Description

The TecLines TKW007 desk cable duct/cable tray offers an intelligent solution for maintaining a neat and organized workspace while preventing the unsightly clutter of cables. Its hinge feature simplifies the process of adding or removing cables without the need for cumbersome tools. The well-placed openings in its design not only enhance ventilation but also provide easy access to the cables. Installing it is quick and hassle-free with the use of screws. The versatile fold-out cable tray serves not only as a cable organizer but also works perfectly for accommodating slim power strips and power adapters. It is compatible with most standard desk surfaces, making it a universally adaptable solution. The cable management system ensures that cables are securely held within the tray, and its clean and straightforward design seamlessly integrates into any work environment, making it a valuable addition to any desk. TecLines - Intelligent technology by creative minds.
